NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO MOTHERS.

In a country where the rearing of infants is attended with somewhat exceptional difficulties and risk owing partly to climatic reasons, and partly to the difficulty of getting medical assistance in the 'camp,' an apology is hardly needed for publishing a small hand-book on the subject for the use of mothers. In Dr. Pennel's book on Infant Feeding an attempt has been made to explain in simple terms the reasons on which the various rules and recommendations are based, in order that a mother in modifying her child's diet from time to time as required, may be guided by common sense and not by the hundred and one conflicting counsels, with which she will be assailed. On sale at all bookstalls and libraries.

Telegrams

(Per Havas Agency.)

United Kingdom

London, 7th—The latest official information is that a settlement of the Boundary question has been arrived at direct with the Government of Venezuela.

The working man's champion Mr. John Burns, member for Battersea delivered to-day at a public meeting a furious tirade against the House of Lords which he stigmatized as a gross anomaly at the present day.

Mr. Gladstone who for several weeks has been staying at Biarritz, proposes on Monday to leave for Cannes, there to spend the rest of the winter. The health of the aged statesman is reported to be satisfactory.

France

Paris, 7th—The alarming telegrams from Chile as to the serious state of the Bounday question between that country and Chile, are not believed here. The papers here express confidence that the question will be settled amicably.

The Minister of Marine, M. Lockroy, telegraphed to-day to French Guiana to ascertain what truth there might be in the rumour circulated abroad to the effect that a French cruiser had captured off Amapa a Brazilian merchantman.

Germany

Berlin, 7th—Marshal Beberstein has informed the Budget-committee of the Reichstag that, though it is necessary to increase the naval strength of the Empire, no credit will be asked for during the present session.

Denmark

Copenhagen, 7th—A furious storm has been raging in the Baltic since last night. Several wrecks are already reported on the coast.

United States

New York, 7th—A violent storm since yesterday has been raging on the Atlantic coast doing great damage to shipping. Many rivers have overflowed their banks and inundated large tracts of territory. The storm still continues.

Italy

Rome, 7th—The official organs are silent about Colonel Pittaluga's mission. In military circles the object of the expedition is considered to be to protect Assab against an attack by the Abyssinians now occupying Aoussa.

The most contradictory rumours about the campaign in Abyssinia are in circulation here, and public anxiety is increasing. The Government refuses any information, lest it should be transmitted to the Abyssinian camp, and mar General Baratieri's plans.

It is denied that a campaign into the Province of Harrar to the South of Abyssinia, is contemplated by the Government.

No fresh news has arrived from Africa. The general anxiety has been still further deepened by the rumour that General Baratiere will not commence offensive operations in earnest, until the arrival of the re-inforcements which the Government has decided to send out to him.

Later.—Despatches received this afternoon state that both the Italian and Abyssinian forces are stationary. It is consequently presumed that the Negus' army cannot, as reported, have occupied Adua.

Spain

Madrid, 7th—The Heraldo insists on the necessity of sending a squadron of ironclads to Cuba, in view of the possible recognition of the rebels as belligerents by the United States.

A tremendous sensation has been created all over Spain by the motion in the American Senate, to recognize the Cubans as belligerents. Meetings will be held here and in all the large cities to protest, and petition Government not to recognize such action on the part of the United States in case Congress should vote it.

The body of the rioter shot down by the police during the disturbances caused by the manifestation against General Martinez Campos, was buried to-day in the presence of an enormous concourse of people. The leaders of the Republican party were present and spoke at the grave-side, censuring strongly the conduct of the authorities.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 7th—The relations between Russia and Bulgaria are improving and the semi-official organs announce today that the Czar has decided to renew them officially the moment Prince Boris is received into the Orthodox Church, when a Diplomatic Agent will be sent to Sofia. A Special Delegate will also be sent to represent the Czar at the baptism of Prince Boris which will take place next Friday in Sofia. The papers here are jubilant over the matter.

The Emperor Nicolas signed to-day a decree according pardon to many convicts transported to Siberia, on the condition that they serve in the army stationed on the frontier of Corea.

Bulgaria

Sofia, 7th—The Princess Marie Loise consort of Prince Ferdinand, left this afternoon for Nice accompanied by her second son Prince Cirilo, in order to be absent from the ceremony of the baptism into the Greek church of her son Prince Boris.

Chile

Valparaiso, 7th—It is said that the new Boundary protocol will be signed when Congress votes the Budget.

Yesterday, in the Senate, the Minister of War moved preference for the mobilization of National Guards Bill, and the Bill was voted at the evening sitting. To-day the Deputies will approve some amendments in it made by the Upper House, and it will be promulgated at once.

Exchange on London 17 5/8.

It is considered here now that the Boundary question is approaching a very critical stage and may lead to serious events at any moment, as the meaning of treaties and protocols is now being discussed, instead of the mere placing of "hitos." The chief difficulty lies in the South, and may lead to an explosion. One of the joint Commissions there has stopped work over a dispute about the highest peaks and the 'divortia aquarum."

The financial situation gets worse daily, as it is seen that the continued export of gold must very shortly lead to a stoppage of specie payments and inevitable bankruptcy.

Brazil.

Rio Janeio, 7th—Exchange on London 9 3/32.

The news of Sr. Godoy's mission for a neutrality treaty with Paraguay in case of war between Chile and Argentina has created some sensation.

The French steamer La Plata left this morning for the Plate.

Argentine Republic

Rosario, 7th—The wheat market is steady and transactions were done at 7.20. Linseed and maize are dull and unchanged.

A large exporting firm here has gone to the wall, and many other houses are let in, but not very seriously.

(Special Service of the Diario.)

United Kingdom

London, 7th—In referring to the proposed Pan-American Congress the English papers say that the idea should have been buried with its author, Mr. James Blaine, and that the United States can easily find other means of attracting the sympathies, not only of the Spanish American republics, but of the whole world.

In the new Naval Estimates, 9¼ millions sterling are set down for new vessels, viz. 4 first class battle ships, 8 first class cruisers and 70 torpedo boats. All the papers, Liberal, Conservative and Radical, say that Great Britain's supremacy at sea must be maintained at any cost.

Germany

Berlin, 7th—In the Budget just presented to the Reichstag by the Government there is no increased expenditure for the Navy. Nevertheless, Minister von Beberstein announced that the German navy must shortly be increased, to maintain German influence abroad. In foreign policy there will be no change for the present.

United States

New York, 7th—The most terrible tempest and rain seen for many years have just swept over the United States. Besides enormous damage done on land, the northern coast is strewn with wrecked ships and corpses of drowned sailors. The life-boats have rendered grand service and saved many lives. Two of them with twenty men were lost, and subscriptions are being raised for their familes.

The rivers have overflowed their banks, sweeping away bridges and stopping the traffic on the high roads, strewing the country with corpses of men and animals and the debris of houses.

Terrible scenes occurred on the banks of the rivers while efforts were being made to save life, but hundreds had to be abandoned to their fate.

It will take many days to repair the telegraph lines.

New Jersey State suffered most, Boundbrook was swept away and many of its inhabitants perished. To add to the horror, a fire broke out, and the cries of the drowning were mingled with those of those who were being burned alive. The total damage amounts to many millions of dollars.

AMERICA FOR THE AMERICANS.

America for the Americans! There is a certain euphonious jingle in the horism that has made it popular as it falls gently and insinuatingly on the ear and captivates the mind, like many musical, clap-trap alliterations. It sounds better than Asia for the Asiatics, infinitely more so than Europe for the Europeans, but is not more harmonious than Africa for the Africans—a literary flight of fancy, as poor Africa is good game for the greedy Powers of Europe. There may have been a period when the cry of America for the Americans was raised against pretensions that are now parcelling out the African Continent, but that period, with its dangers, has passed, and there is today no better safe-guard of the sovereignty of American States than those very European Powers. The American aphorism is, therefore, out of date so far as European encroachments are concerned, and that it is obsolete was proved at the Pan American Congress convoked by the late Mr. Blaine, convoked more for commercial and political hegemony than for mutual defence.

At that Congress the Argentine Delegate, the eloquent Saenz Peña, raised the cry of America for Humanity against the exclusive and narrow-minded America for the Americans. To-day, in view of the Venezuelan difficulty with Great Britain, the Brazilian difficulty with France, the Trinidad seizure by England, last, not least, the projections of the Cuban struggle against Spain, the Government of Ecuador invites all American States to form another Pan-American Congress. If convoked with a view of establishing political solidarity on this continent, the Congress could not be more plausible and opportune at the present juncture, but in such a Congress Great Britain should figure conspicuously, if for no other reason than that she must be considered an American Power: apart from community of race and language with the United States, and not taking into consideration the colossal interests that bind America to Great Britain. Thus in any Pan-American Congress summoned to establish a political solidarity on this continent, whether to repel foreign aggression or maintain a "statu quo" on the continent that would preclude all rights of conquest or appetite for aggrandizement, the presence of a British Delegate would be in our opinion an imperious necessity, and we do not doubt that Great Britain would agree to the formation of some Arbitration Court that would decide all difficulties that might arise among the States represented at the Pan-American Congress. We doubt much, however, if Chile, which has grown by conquest, would accept a "statu quo" fixed by any Congress, but this might be considered a secondary consideration if all other American states joined the league.

So far we see that a political solidarity established by a Pan-American Congress is plausible, but in the invitation of the Ecuador Government we see the germs of dissension and of chaos in the proposed Congress, in the shape of intrusion upon commence and financee. Any move in this direction must necessarily be viewed with suspicion, especially as the United States have everything to reap by establishing a kind of commercial hegemony in which they have everything to gain, the other states everything to lose, if not too forcibly expressed. Any attempt of a Congress of delegates to turn the current of trade and make new channels of commerce will bring mighty interests into collision. How far a commercial agreement between North and Central America would answer we cannot state; even Brazil might join in a combination whereby it would become a satellite revolving round the United States. But Argentina and Chile have no interest in the North: they are linked to British capital and to the European market: to sunder them from that connection by Pan American decrees and tariffs would be a dangerous experiment, in fact we do not think it could be countenanced. From a commercial stand-point Chile and Argentina, and Brazil, we may add, belong to the European commercial, financial system, wherein they revolve, and nothing short of a great catastrophe that would shake the world can take them out of that system.

In other words, the proposed Pan American Congress can achieve much good and transcendental in the political sphere, but will fail ignominiously if it touches the currents and channels of trade.

THE CHILIAN LOAN.

We feel sure that Dr. Romero, Minister of Finance, will read with interest the following exposé of his colleague the Chilian Minister, on the issue of one million sterling of Chilian Treasury Bills in the London market; the facts and figures are worth studying.

The Chilian Minister of Finance made the following speech in the Senate in Santiago last week:—

"I deem it to be advisable for me to inform the Senate that this loan has been raised on Treasury Bills at 11, 12, 13 and 14 months, bearing 4½ per cent. interest, the commision being one per cent., stamp duty ½ per mil, and brokerage ¼ per cent cheaper than those issued for the discounting of the nitrate obligations, which were placed at 5 per cent. Therefore there is a gain to the State of ½ per cent, and this has been obtained without giving, as before, the guarantee of nitrate obligations or of any other kind, and without giving preference, as was the desire of the Senate, to anybody in the raising of the loan for £4,000,000. German and French banks and Messrs. Rothschilds were invited to tender for these Bills. The German banks replied that they were not in a position to take part in the negotiation. The French banks, that is to say, those which have agents in Chili, asked for the time for tendering to be extended to Wednesday, the 29th, but the request could not be acceded to, because the time fixed for replying to the only offer received was Saturday, the 25th. The French banks gave this as a reason for not making offers. Consequently no other offer but that of Messrs. Rothschild and Sons, in the terms indicated, has been presented. I take this opportunity of rectifying an unfounded rumour which has been circulated with respect to the loan of £4,000,000. It has been reported that the placing of this loan has been a failure. This is entirely incorrect. There has not been the remotest foundation for the circulation of this report and much less for the importation of the rumour from abroad, inasmuch as no steps whatever have been taken with a view to the placing of the loan. All that has been done in the matter has been to ask our Ministers in Paris and Berlin to give their opinions with respect to the European money market, and their reply was that the moment was not propitious for an operation of this nature, the economic situation being greatly perturbed, owing to political occurrences and the African mines fiasco. Given this state of affairs, the Government decided, for the present, to raise a temporary loan of £2,000,000, with the view of allowing time for matters in Europe to recover their accustomed condition, and then to negotiate the loan of £4,000,000 under more favourable conditions than the present.

The Minister of Finance—I understand sir, that the telegram expresses that the Bills have been placed at par, exception made of the interest, which, in this class of operations, it is the custom to recover in advance.

MAR DEL PLATA.

The intense heat of Sunday and Monday was followed by a few showers and a complete change in the temperature. Wednesday was a cold, wintry day, some few great swimmers and confirmed bathers stripped off as usual and, laughing at the pampero, jumped into the mountain waves which roared along the Rambla, but, as a rule, most of the visitors abstained from bathing, the air being much colder than the water. The best English swimmer here this year is Mr. Shepperd, who swims easily from the Rambla to St. James's Bay and back; all the swell bank managers, elegant widows and beautiful young girls just stand on the shore and let the waves come over them; and there are about a dozen rich elderly men who every day at from ten to eleven a.m. take off their clothes and put on a sort of bathing dressing gown with hoods; they look awful frights; are all very bald and very fat, and they all take what is called a sand bath, lying down on the hot sand in the sun for twenty minutes; their servants then take off their bathing dressing gowns, and then they appear in bathing pyjamas, hold hands and walk into the sea a few yards, squat down and let the waves come over them. They remain there for about fifteen minutes and then all run out like drowned rats, when their servants, standing on the sands, cover them with their bathing dressing gown. Then they toddle up to their bathing box before the promenading crowd of wealth, fashion and beauty. The sight in one sense is instructive, since no one for a moment would suppose that these dozen of sand bathers represent such a collective fortune of millions and millions as is ascribed to them.

The fashionable bathing hour in the morning is from nine to ten, but the widow bathes at eleven, when the place is crowded, and the millionaires go in at the same time. The bathing boxes are, with the exception of one or two, pretty much the same as those at the Pocitos in Montevideo, but the Drysdale bathing house is fitted up luxuriously, has close on a dozen of rooms, nice corredor and comfortable chairs, in fact it is the only one of the kind down here. It is a sort of English rendezvous. None of the Drysdale family are here at present, but all Mr. Drysdale's friends have a free invitation.

Yesterday overcoats and paletots were far more in requisition then bathing dresses, and the cold snap sent scores back to Buenos Aires.

A very tragic affair occurred at the Bristol on Wednesday night as the guests were at dinner. Dr. Hugo Marcus, who was at dinner in the saloon, was suddenly called out, and although there were very many members of the St. John's Ambulance Association First Aid at the tables I did not see one lady get up from her dinner and run to get bandages and splints, which makes me think that there is a great deal of bum-bum in that ladies' first aid association, about which we all heard so much in Flores and Buenos Aires. The tragedy was hushed up, and all that was known in the dining saloon was that the chief of the servants department was with his wife handling a little revolver and playing with it, never suspecting that one of the barrels was loaded. The husband playfully pointed the revolver close up to his wife's head and shot her in the head it is said by accident. We here in the hotel know nothing more about the affair. Dr. Marcus extracted half the ball, and the poor woman is better this morning, but no one knows anything about the affair. The playful husband has been removed, and last night in the billiard room, when Dr. Quesada and Sr. Luro were playing billiards, Mr. M. entered, and gave me the account of the affair. The whole affair, combined with the cold weather, threw a gloom over the hotel. That night the ladies all retired early, the children were the only dancers in the saloon, and the wind was so sharp that there was not a soul on the terrace.

The train on Wednesday night took up a crowd of visitors to Buenos Aires, and Mrs. Mackern has gone back in very much improved health with her husband. Mr. Bowen left to close his letters for the mail; Mr. Antonio Devoto went up, we suppose to attend the meeting of the Banco de Italia. Our Secretary Dr. MacNally, has gone back to town with his mother and sister, but he still keeps on the house here and will return in a few days. I shall miss him greatly as he knows every one, from the millionaires down to the policemen; he is very intimate with the "Recowdedor de zentas", who told him the other day that he had brought down a lot of new policemen with white gloves and gaiters, as he found the police here were very inferior and not at all up to the requirements of the refined civilization of the place.

Mr. Eugene Linch and Mr. William Ham are both staing at the Grand, they are said to be the best shots here, one of them having taken the bull's eye four times, Father Flannery has arrived from San Pedro and is living at the Hotel Central: Mr. Lumsden is at his beautiful villa on the hill next to the church. We drive out every evening to the Bay of St. James and stroll about the beach under the half finished hotel which stands in the most commanding position, and if finished and furnished would do more business than the Bristol; it is a beautiful spot, and we do not wonder that so many of the English families go out to bathe there in preference to the Rambla; we wandered along the sands with our secretary Dr. MacNally, who is the soul of humour and knows every song the far famed Christy Minstrels charmed the public with in the long vanished years. Mac is inimitable as minstrel, and sitting on the old rocks underneath the hotel, accompanying himself on the banjo, he sang for us the following dear old ditty, which fetched us back to boyhood's years:

"We sat beneath de hanging cliffs for many happy hours,
"We heard the singin ob the birds and watched the fairest flowers;
"And den in our little boat we sailed about the bay,
"Oh! wasn't it a happy time, de time I courted Mae?
"Dearest Mae! you're lublier dan de day;
"Your eyes are bright, we need no light when de Moon am gone away!"

OUR LONDON LETTER.

POSTSCRIPT.

(From our own Correspondent)

London, Jan. 10th.

From the latest news from all quarters we judge the week is about to close with a brighter prospect than it commenced with. The Stock Exchange is firm, though little business is transacted. The state of political affairs is still serious, and neither in Europe, the United States, nor in Africa, from Cairo to Cape Town, are British difficulties by any means over. Fortunately, one difficulty not only puts the other temporarily out of sight, but tends to cure it. The Armenian question was forgotten when we received news of President Cleveland's apparently hostile message. The message was nearly forgotten in the Wall Street financial crisis which ensued. The Transvaal business put both out of sight, while the latest sensation, the unfriendly telegram of the German Emperor, roused us to the perception of still higher dangers and led to absolute warlike preparations in England, when President Cleveland's message had not caused a hammer to sound or a sword to jingle. We understood the great seriousness of the Message, but we also understood the nation from whence it came. The German Emperor we do not understand. He is too fond of surprises. The first effect of his telegram to President Kruger, coming on the top as it were of the defeat of our little band of troopers—freebooters if you will—was to direct the sympathies of the United States towards this country. Even to-day we see American newspapers, not in general well disposed in our favour, threatening Europe that if it is thinking of a coalition against England it will have to count also with the United States, which intend to side with the mother country. We have within the last fortnight grown so scientific that we do not openly acknowledge our transatlantic friends' kindness and go on quietly with our military preparations in case of accidents. But the American journals who wish us well, may rest assured they do not write in vain. We shall not say like our blubbering Times newspaper—"We hav'nt done nothing." We have. With the insolence of class and class Government we have gone on our own way regarding others with an impudent stare, so long as we do not positively nudge up against them, in which case we should apologise politely, or they against us, in which case we should let out. Jameson and Willoughby are Hawkins and Frobisher over again. It is in us, as it is in our friends in Kentucky and Massachussetts. We are varnished freebooters. We do not quite see that the world is not as big as it used to be, and we must do some of our freebooting at home. We have had our lesson in collectivism, and wait anxiously to see if our class government and ministers of the Salisbury type have learned theirs. If not, we shall be at war with half the world in the beginning of next Spring or Summer. "There is a way out of the Schomburgk boundary question" we are told by the pence makers. That may be, but there is no way out of the Egypt question but one, walk out. It is very annoying to look at the map of South Africa and see the British possessions eaten into by two big Dutch republics. There is no help for it. We must wait for another generation now before we dream again even of one great South African Republic! Our fine ladies and our dukes are accustomed to pay their card debts. They have lost, and will pay the fine to the Dutch farmers with a good grace. Lord Salisbury dare not ask the British people to pay it. He dare not attempt any of the tricks he has promised in favour of his political friends. If there is no war, we shall have an interesting session of parliament. The Government will be supported by all parties in its military preparations, but not necessarily in its foreign policy, if it has not learned the lesson of the last few weeks.

I was in hopes of being able to send you some information in regard to the financial policy of the United States Government, which seems inclined towards a popular loan and throwing over the syndicates, but the position of affairs is not decisive enough to touch. The New York letter in the Times this morning does not contain much of value.

"OUR KINDRED" ACROSS THE SEA.

SPEECH BY THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR.

"IT CANNOT BE."

The Actors' Fund dinner at the Hotel Métropole in London was turned into a veritable peace demonstration.

The Chairman, Sir. F. Jeune, in the course of a reference to "the dramatic intercourse" between Britain and the United States, expressed, amid loud cheers, the hope that this was the only domain in which there would be serious rivalry between the two countries. He trusted that there would never be a more serious difference between two races that, after all, were brothers in history and in race." (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Comyns Carr gave "Our Friends across the Sea." It was, he said, across the Atlantic that we interchanged, not friendship alone, but the genius of thought, of temperament, and of blood. (Applause.) We were two nations who owned a common language and a common race; we were brothers after all—(applause)—men who spoke "the tongue that Shakspeare spake; the faith and morals hold that Milton held." (Applause.) Whatever statesmen and politicians might do, nothing could divide us in our common inheritance of literature and of tongue. (Applause.)

Mr. Bayard, the American Ambassador, on rising to respond, was greeted with loud and prolonged cheers, the audience rising, the better to express the sincerity of their feelings. Speaking amid respectful silence and with obvious emotion, Mr. Bayard said—"To-night we stand upon common ground. There is no war between us. It has disappeared absolutely, as absolutely as the cables of my old friend Sir John Pender have caused it to disappear in the way of communication by voice. Mr. Comyns Carr's remarks have affected me. He has spoken of the impossible of certain divisions. I thank God that there are some things that cannot be divided, that men must hold in common. There have been many judgments rendered in the judicial courts. But never was a judgment that so affected the heart of man as the judgment that was rendered by the wisest of men, when the false mother and the true mother met to decide the fate of the child—(loud applause)—and it was proposed by the wise King that the child should be put to death to decide the ownership. Gentlemen, it cannot be. (Loud applause.) The heart of humanity rang out when it said, "Let the child live." (Renewed applause.) It cannot be (Continued applause) There are children of the brain and children of the heart. There are the children born of the common ancestry, of the common language, and I do not think they will be permitted to die—(cheers)—because of the false parentage.....The phrase "kindred beyond the seas" was attributed to an illustrious and venerable statesman of this country, Mr. Gladstone. (Applause.) I do not know if he was the anthor, but I am glad to accept it, and to answer for it. (Applause.) Thus I will consider that I am speaking for the other side of the Atlantic, and for that friendship of our race. For this I will answer—I will answer for my kindred and for your kindred beyond the seas. (Applause!) Now, gentlemen, there is no one who will admit more freely than my honourable friend Sir Francis Jeune that one of the most difficult questions in law is to determine a man's domicile (Laughter.) It is a question that generally affects property. (Renewed laughter.) The notion of domicile is where a man's home is; and I will ask you as English-speaking actors, whether your home is really in the United States or here. (Applause.) Your home is not less here than it is across the Atlantic. It is not more here than it is there. (Applause).....There is a phrase used by Mr. Gladstone in his article on "Our kith and kin beyond the seas," which I would gladly recall at this moment. I do not know whether he is the author of that phrase "our kith and kin", but he was the first that employed the phrase, and I fervently trust that he will not be the last to employ it. (Applause.) In that article he used this couplet:—

And hands may clasp across the spreading main.

(Loud and continued applause.) I think the time is suitable to repeat these words. (Renewed applause.) No profession can speak them so well as yours. None can speak them so well in the name of your country, and of my country, than the profession that is domiciled in both countries, and I therefore ask you to join with me in wishing that "hands may clasp across the spreading main." (Loud and continued applause.)

THE EL DORADO OF THE EAST.

The far famed land of Aphir or Ophir visited by King Solomon's merchants in company with the Phoenicians, was the strip of the Red Sea coast extending from Massowah to the town of Zeyla, on the Gulf of Aden. During the past few years several European settlements have been founded there. The Massowah and Assab are nominally Italian colonies. Obock, on the Gulf of Tajurra, is a French coaling depot and naval station. Owing to the two hundred and odd miles of howling desert intervening between Obock and the Abysinnian highlands, both of these stations are practically useless for colonization purposes. The inhabitants, the Adali, as they call themselves, are nomadic, depending entirely upon their camels, cattle, sheep and goats for subsistence. They have no permanent buildings and no settled place of abode, but move about from place to place, according to the necessities of water and pasturage for their flocks. The animals are always corralled at night to protect them from lions and beasts of prey. The principal occupation of the young men during the day is to stroll out in charge of the herds with a shield on the left arm and a spear thrown over the right shoulder. They are dark complexioned—almost black in fact. The hair is worn long, but not dyed as is the fashion of Eastern Somali-land. The only clothing is a cotton robe, draped carelessly over the shoulder, leaving the right arm bare. The Adali are veritable Ishmaelites. Their hand is against every man, and every man's hand is against them. Many more or less inexperienced African travellers have got into trouble with them, and have been killed in trying to pass through the country. The name Ad-ali seems to indicate some connection with the Ad-ites, the ancient inhabitants of the Yemen province of Arabia. The country is dry and arid in the extreme. A few thorny bushes, several varieties of cactüs and air plants, herbage of different kinds and stray tufts of coarse grass, are all that can be seen in the way of vegetation. Numerous deposits of salt exist in some parts, and considerable trade is carried on with this article in the Abyssinian highlands, where it is bartered for grain. There is almost no surface water, and the flocks are watered from wells in the beds of the dry, sandy watercourses. The one exception is in the case of the River Hawash, which flows from the Galla highlands and eventually loses itself in the sands not far from the Gulf of Tajurra. The town of Aussa is located on the lower part of this river. In the time of the ancients Zeyla belonged to the land of Aphir, and was the principal seaport, but the progress of the Somalis westward forced the Adali back to the opposite side of the Gulf of Tajurra. It is now a Somali town under British protection, which practically means annexation.

Two roads existed to the old gold mines. The one direct to Entoto, the capital of the place, the other via Harar and the Galla highlands. Space will not permit of a full description of the route. Part of it has been described in a previous issue. Suffice it to say that after leaving the coast desert we find high table-lands at an elevation of from five to eight thousand feet above sea-level, intersected by mountain ranges and rapid flowing rivers, diversified by occasional lakes.

A lot of old historical records are deposited in a monastery on an island in the centre of Lake Louai. The islanders jealously guard these treasures. And even King Menilek himself has not been able to gain access to them. The gold countries are the Galla States of Susi, Juma and Wallega. The latter is something like five hundred miles West of Harar. The gold is obtained by washing in the beds of rivers. On one occasion the tributary chief of Juma presented King Menilik with a saddle of solid gold. The bridle and all the trappings were also of the same metal.

The richest mines are in Wallega in the extreme West. There is not much being done at present. Most of the gold comes to Menilek in the way of tribute. I have seen as much as 5,000 ounces in one parcel. The gold of commerce is cast in the form of heavy rings. Now that the old trade routes are being opened up these gold fields would be worked extensively were it not for the fact that Menilek is afraid of rousing the cupidity of European nations, if they had any idea of the wealth of these countries. However, when Ras Makunen comes on the throne a move will be made in this direction. Curious to say the objects of trade are the same to-day as when described by the historian two thousand years ago. Some manufactures exist. The cotton goods of the country are very strong and durable. Most of the people are christians. But some Mahometan States also exist. They are now all subject to Menilek.

It is just as well to say that should any of my readers feel tempted to try his fortune in these old gold mines, such an idea is not to be thought of at present. Only those Europeans who are known and trusted by the Abyssinian authorities would be permitted to travel there or work any concessions.

THEATRES.

The Pabellon and the Casino are attracting great attention from the public. All due to the arrival of Miss Ywonna, an exceptional baritone from Paris. The house generally shakes when she appears, and very often the performance is prolonged owing to several encores, which she very gracefully replies to. Mr. Nollet is evidently "au courant" with the taste of the Buenos Aires audience.

There are only two days left to see the Kinetophone, and to play draughts with the Automaton, as they depart for Montevideo on Monday.

The Skating Rink will open its doors on Sunday the 16th inst. They announce 6 masked balls. The balls at this place of amusement are always of the very jolliest description and well worth attendance.

Wirth Bros. will, to-night, put before the public a performance that will be thoroughly unique, and such as has never been witnessed in any circus in Buenos Aires, The usual acts will be given; but on this occassion everything will be done by amateurs and in this consists the attraction. Our amateurs have done many good things, but never yet attempted to entirely carry through a circus performance; although it has been done in Rosario with the greatest success. Amongst those who have promised their assistance are Messrs. R. H. Morgan, H. H. Ewen, A. Sangster, F. J. Balfour, E. Fraser, Oscar A. J. Warrell, P. Germain, P. Ecott, W. Kingsland and Captain Mudd. One of these gentlemen, whose name we dare not divulge, will be the clown, and judging from the rehearsals, he will make an excellent fool. Another will be Tony and the rest will do the usual circus business. There will be hurdle races, steeplechases and jumping trials, for which last a gold medal will be given as a prize. Do not forget, to-night at Arcadia—the amateurs' night.

The benefit to Misses Marizles and Edith and Mr. G. Eldred last night was most successful, all three being received with great applause and going through their performances with great eclat.

To-morrow there will be two performances that at night being the last of the season, as they depart for Rosario on Monday.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Feb. 7th.

The Provincial Police has again found itself in trouble. The Inspector of Colon is now being sued on the charge of having brutally treated a prisoner who refused to take off his belt containing money.

The case of Vidarte, said to have died from wounds inflicted by the police in Villa Ballester, has been almost finished, but the Judge is, it is said, under the idea that the unfortunate man may have committed suicide in prison.

In the 25 Mayo two men playing at "truco", quarrelled and one of them shot the other, wounding him dangerously.

The Chamber of Deputies held no sitting to-day, so that the Budget still remain unvoted.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There was enough stirring news yesterday to send the Gold Eagle fluttering if the miserable bird had a kick-left in him, but he has n't. The telegrams from Chile reported the Boundary muddle as approaching a dangerous stage. Then there was news that the purchase of the Saint Bon ironclad had fallen through, and, worse still, there is some serious hitch about the precious Garibaldi. The awful hurricane in the United States put our American Cousins resident in low spirits, and all proper-minded Britishers put on a mourning cast of countenance in sympathy with the misfortune in the family. The further tremendous war preparations at home were spoken of in English circles as conclusive proof that the big war is not far off.

A correspondent sends us full details of the accident that happened last Thursday in the British Hotel in Mar del Plata. The husband of one of the parlor-maids was handling a revolver and accidentally lodged a bullet in the forehead of his better half—fortunately the wound is not fatal. The accident took place at half-past seven, just as the dining-saloon was one blaze of light and fashion. The event case a gloom over the evening. It was very lucky that Dr. Senorans and Dr. Hugo Marcus were at hand: the latter always carries his instruments with him. They dressed the wound, performed the necessary operations, chloroforming the poor woman—who is now out of danger. Her husband was nearly distracted to see that he had wounded his wife.

"Paris vaut bien une Messe," said the gallant Henri Quatre of France. The mess between Russia and Bulgaria has been settled by Prince Boris changing his religion without boring the Pope any more about it.

What lies the cablegrams tell! In London it is officially denied that England intends to recognize Brazil's right to Trinidad. Lord Salisbury has also resolved to permanently annex the Malacca Straits Settlements, and to give the fat old Sultan of Borneo such a sum for that island that the venerable buffer is sure to die happy.

Dr. Dardo Rocha arrived at the Central Station yesterday morning at 7 o'clock with his son Carlos. A large number of friends were there to receive him and welcomed him home warmly. Later in the day Dr. Rocha had a long conference with President Roca and Minister Alcorta, but the reporters failed to find out much of what passed.

Don't be in a hurry, Young National Guards of 20 years. All the rumours about your being called to arms immediately are bosh. We hear the 1st of April will be the day. It is an uncomplimentary date, no doubt; but it is only a coincidence. Nothing personal meant we assure you. The news that all the cavalry regiments of the National Guard, are to be disbanded has come as a disagreeable surprise to all the gallant young troopers.

Sometime ago a man paid a visit to the Chief of Police in his private house for the purpose of provoking him to a quarrel. General Campos, however, proved himself the stronger man and kicked him downstairs—at least so the story goes. The injured citizen then brought an action against the Chief, for abuse of authority; but the Magistrate Dr. Bustamante has non-suited him, as well as two others who had instituted similar proceedings for different causes against General Campos.

A domestic drama of rather an exceptional character is now before the law-courts. An old lady of good social standing has been carried off and hidden by her daughter and a barrister whose union though blessed with children lacks the blessing of the Church. For 20 years that union, unfortunately so common here, has existed, winked at if not actually sanctioned by the mother. Some time ago the eldest daughter who had originally left her home, disapproving of her sister's conduct, obtained from the court a finding that her mother was incapable of managing her property which is considerable—or we should never have heard anything of the affair. The sinning barrister contrived to be appointed trustee but very naturally his sister-in-law (let us call her) objected to the arrangement and has now brought a suit against him for wasting the substance of the old lady whom in partnership with her 2nd daughter, they have hidden away.

Those who will insist on drinking other liquid than Apollinaris at their dinner should leave their watches at home. Mr. Domingo Martino, in an exhilerated frame of mind was on Thursday night relieved of his time-piece at the corner of Rincon and San Juan by four persons. But such was his hilarious condition that he can give the police no description of his spoilers.

A very sad case is that of Mr. Agustin Olivera, for long business manager of our colleague El Diario. He recently underwent an operation for an affection of the throat. About 6 days ago when delirious he escaped from the house at night in his shirt-sleeves. No trace of him can be found and many fear foul-play. Police Magistrate Gallegos with the hearty assistance of the police is making every effort to discover what has become of the unfortunate gentleman.

There are no "terminaciones" in the Lottery to-day, and only 2,500 prizes, but these latter are larger. Nevertheless, Mr. General Public likes to have a chance on the "ultimas cifras," and this, no doubt, is the reason why such a lot of tickets remained unsold yesterday in all the "agencias." The crusade and revelations of our esteemed colleague the Argentino may also have something to say to it. An Italian or German expert should be sent for to re-model the Lottery here, which is by no means up to date—except in the obnoxious sense of the word.

The Prince of Wales has been ordered by his medical men to try the bicycle to keep down his tendency to put on more "too solid flesh," but the heir to the throne by no means likes the idea of appearing before his future subjects on such a vulgar and undignified substitute for a horse. The King of Portugal is a still fatter Royalty who has had to give up butter on his bread and sugar in his tea, to keep down the superabundance of adipose matter that covers his crowned bones.

During the height of the recent family row between Mother Britannica and Miss Columbia, the London Man of the World made the following remark appropriate to the pantomime season:—"Harlequin Grover, or the Fairy Princess Venezuela, the Wicked Villain Monroe, and the Yank, the Crank, and the Spank is the pantomime that is attracting most attention this year. The advance booking in America is tremendous."

An unfortunate daily bread man, a poor baker from San Nicolas, blew his skull to the summer wind, in Palermo Park, on Thursday, with a shot gun.

We are favoured with a long letter from Dr. L. Rosso of Cañuelas, who says that the cure for cancer (carbolic acid injections) said by cablegram the other day to have been discovered by a Japanese doctor, is all pure gammon, as it is nothing new, and has been tried before. We suppose it is new to the medical Jap, like European clothes.

It is rather funny to hear of the "testamentaria" of the Argentine hero General San Martin being now before the law courts, but it is, in reference to a claim for the ownership of a house in Calle San Martin, corner of Cangallo, and another in Calle Victoria, corner of Balcarce. The plaintiff in the case, which has some resemblance to the great Coghlan suit at home, to which we referred the other day, is Mrs. Josefa Gutierrez de Escalada, grand-danghter of the great General, and who resides permanently in Paris.

The marriage of Mr. F. J. Cassini and Miss Kate L. Hayward will be solemnized at Trinity Church Lomas this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. Owing to the popularity of both the happy couple, it is expected that the Church will be crowded by their numerous friends.

During the recent storms, at Bella Vista, B. O. a flash of lighting struck and instantly killed St. Spinetti, a machinist on the Central Uruguay Railway, as he was coupling some waggons. He was nearly 70 years of age and had been in the employment of the Company since 1871, bearing a high character. His death is much lamented by his companions. He was a widower and leaves four sons, two of whom are now dying from consumption.

The public subscription to erect a monument to the late Dr. del Valle has made a vigorous start and is certain to be a great success. The list is headed by Mrs. Cambaceres with $5,000; and then follow many of $1,000, $500, $400, $300, and $200 down gradually to $40. It will be the most popular subscription raised here for years. Years must pass before his country looks on del Valle's like again.

According to Woman, the difficulty of getting a fairly good likeness of the Queen increases every year. For one thing, Her Majesty is proverbially impatient of the camera, and absolutely refuses to pose longer than a few seconds. On the other hand, the Princess of Wales makes the most gracious and interested of sitters. She knows immediately how to pose herself.

That unlucky number 13 again! Yet, every week regularly it comes out with several prizes in the Lottery and sometime (twice last year) with the "grande." Recently on the Pacific line engine number 13, bringing the train from Junin, broke down after running 13 kilometres, there being 13 passengers on the train.

We feel deeply indebted for the huge cucumber sent to us yesterday with the following note by a kind Quilmes subscriber, but as cucumber is the most indigestible of vegetables, we cannot touch it until some other kind subscriber (not necessarily hailing from Quilmes) sends us a bottle or two of "Etcetera" to prevent any ill effects.

Dear STANDARD,

"I fancy the accompanying cucumber, grown in Quilmes, will rather take the shine out of those you grow down South.—S. E.

Now, Jonathan, old hoss, what do you say to the vote of the Canadian Parliament on Wedesday telling the Mother Country that it can count on Canada through thick and thin in case of trouble? In the Chilian Times to hand yesterday we much regret to find the following paragraph:—"It is our very painful duty to record the demise of Mr. Carlos G. Willson, the popular manager for Chili of the New York Life Insurance Company. He had been south on business for the company, and was returning on board the steamer Arica, when on Saturday, the 18th ult., he was seized with an illness which proved fatal, as he died suddenly just as the steamer was entering the bay of Coronel. It is only about two years since he was appointed to the responsible position of manager of the New York prior to which he had been many years manager for the different mills and estates owned by Mr. José Bunster. He resided for a large number of years in Collipulli, where he was much esteemed and respected by a large circle of friends, who learned the news of his sudden death with great grief. He was a gentleman whom to know was to love, and the New York Life has lost by his death an able and efficient official, and the British community in Santiago a true friend. Deceased leaves a widow and several children to mourn his loss".

Friday. February 7th 1896.
Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 216.50%
SECOND RING..... 216.10%

There appears to be some good news in the wind, and a wave of optimism is now flowing freely in some quarters where a very keen watch is kept over the gold speculation. The bare mention of good news implies improvement in the Chilian question, and in well-informed circles it is no longer doubted that we are on the eve of some important settlement that will be signed in the beginning of next week by the Argentine Minister, Dr. Quirno Costa, and the Chilian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Don Adolfo Guerrero. The news is so good and so welcome, that the market doubts it and awaits full confirmation.

In connection with the above, there is a report going round that the contract for the purchase of the Italian iron-clad Saint Bon will not be closed for another week; and if the expected news of a definite settlement of the Limits Question is confirmed next week, in all probability the purchase of the Italian iron-clad will be abandoned. It is worthy of remark that whilst all these satisfactory reports are bruited in the high financial and political ambient, the tone of messages published in the newspapers is far from reassuring and gives rise to some apprehension of immediate difficulties. The gold premium, however, is a very good barometer, and we see that it inclines decidedly to a fall, that is to say the good news is believed to have some foundation.

In the midst of the present doubts and expectations as to what is going to turn up in the next few days, it is remarked that the Minister of Finance, Dr. Romero, is in remarkably good humour. We hear on very good authority that our Financial Sphinx has now to the credit of the Treasury in London very nearly two millions sterling. How he has managed it, we know not, but the money is there, and if affairs turn out satisfactory, and the purchase of the Italian ironclad is abandoned, that balance in London will tide over the Government till the end of the year.

The gold speculation ruled dull, but pretty steady, this morning, about eight hundred thousand dollars changing hands. Business for cash embraced three hundred thousand dollars: the premium opened at 216 %, fell slightly, but closed at 216⅛ %. A very small business was done for the end of the month, not amounting to two hundred thousand dollars: the premium opened at 219 %, fell to 218 %, and closed at 219 %. Eighty thousand dollars were sold for to-morrow, the premium closing at 216½ %. Operations for the fortnightly settlement embraced one hundred thousand dollars, premium closing at 317.30 %. A small amount was also sold for the end of March: the premium opened at 223 %, fell to 222 %, and closed at 222⅛ %. The market closed with a flat tendency all round.

The sharp demand noticed yesterday for National Cedulas F fell off this morning, but the stock remained steady at 80.20. The whole issue of this Cedula Series is not yet out: it appears that there is still a balance of about five millions to be thrown on the market: but this amount must be distributed "pro rata" over all the provinces. Brokers are of opinion that about five millions of the stock have already been purchased for European account. Stock and shares in general were very much neglected today. A few National Cedulas E changed hands at 90⅛. Nothing was done in La Plata Cedulas. Catalinas did not even even put in an appearance.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 336,000 for cash at 316-316.50-30-316-316.30-40-50-30--316--316.20--316-316.30-50-20-30-316-316--20-30-50-30-40-50-30-40-316--50.

The exchange market, if anything ruled a shade weaker to-day. Rates in the open market were quoted at:—

48¼ 5/16d. on London.
5.09 fcs. on France.
5.10 fcs. on Belgium.
4.12½ marks on Germany.

The exchange business of the day did not amount to much.

Paper money shows the same features—in sharp demand. Paper discounts are unaltered at 8%. Gold bills at 7%, nominal.

With regard to the failure of the shipping firm announced in our last issue, it is stated that one firm is creditor for 70,000$ gold, another for £5,000 stg; these are the two largest individual items. One bank is creditor for 50,000$ paper. Another failure in a different line of business is announced. Affairs do not appear to be very healthy in the market at present, owing to restricted credit and paucity of business.

Some changes are announced in the staff of the London and Brazilian and British Banks. In the former we see that Mr. R. G. Shearer is promoted to the post of sub-manager: in the latter we hear that Mr. Francis, the sub-manager, retires.

The R. M. S. Magdalena, according to telegrams, shipped yesterday one hundred and twenty thousand sovereigns for the River Plate. One hundred thousand, we believe, are for the London and River Plate Bank.

Mr. W. Smythies was welcomed to-day on his arrival from Concordia. He says that the famous Yerua colony has given very poor results this season, and that many of the colonists require years of training before they can aspire to become tillers of the soil. The locusts have also played havoc with the crops.

The Stevedores' Society call a general meeting of members for Sunday 9th inst. at 2 p.m. at Pedro Mendoza 861, to fill up vacancies in the board and dispatch other important business.

The Report and balance-sheet of the Union Industrial Argentina were handed round to-day, forming a notable document, that should be in every one's hand who wishes to appreciate, to even a slight degree, the enormous growth of industrial enterprise in this country in the past few years—an advance that even the Union itself confesses its inability to summarize. As for the work of the past year, with which the Report deals, the President, Mr. Ventura Martinez Campos, says that it principally consists of the modelling and development of 3 very important projects viz, starting of an Industrial Bank, construction of edifice for a National Productos' Museum and the holding of a great Industrial Exhibition, these, of course, outside the ordinary sphere of business which has been carefully attended to. We note tha Mr. J. Peuser, at his own expense, had plans drawn up for the Museum, which have been laid before the Committee for consideration, and supplemented this with a donation of $5,000 towards the cost of building. The balance-sheet shews $3,788 deposited in the Banco de la Nacion, and $325 on hand, this latter sum being the balance from the years's working after payment of all expenses. The following gentlemen form the board of management:—President, Mr. Ventura Martinez Campos; Vice 1º, Ing. Francisco Segui; Vice 2º, Jacobo Peuser; Secretary, Carlos Lix Klett, Pro do, José R. Jaca; Treasurer, John Russell; Pro do, Dr. Federico R. Zaualeta. Vocales:—Messrs Tomás Santa Coloma, Adrian Prat, Juan Videla, Joselin Juergo, Francisco Uriburu, Ing. Eduardo Castilla. Dr. Alfonso Martino, Dr. Ramon A. da Toledo, A. Molet, Ing. Pedro Zambrano, Ramiro de Undaberrena, Domingo Alvarado, Ramon Gorchs, José M. Goicoechea, José Lijo Lopez, Jacobo H. Martin, J. Peralta Ramos, Eduardo de Ezcurra.

The national revenue gross tax on real estate and licences for 1895 is returned at $7,690,827, as against $7,440,852 in previous year, thus showing an increase of close on $250,000, the following being the main items of the total:—

Real estate tax, this city	4,608,630
„ „ Nat. territories.	176,353
Industrial licences	2,598,732
Maritime „	229,701
Ambulatory vendors' „	77,350
	7,690,827

The Inland Revenue Office has addressed a courteous circular note to the various and several insurance companies working here, asking them to be kind enough to submit a list of those figuring in their books as brokers.

The ordinary general meeting of shareholders of the French Bank took place yesterday, 45 shareholders representing 9151 shares being present. The balance sheet corresponding to year 1895 was approved and a dividend of $1.10 gold per share declared, not a very high one to be sure, but for all that one sure to improve under the solid, prudent management that governs the institution at present. The following were elected to the board:—Messrs. P. Lanusse, L. Bonnes, L. D. Forgues, E. Lernoud; and substitutes: E. Cornu, Lacroix-Descours, Desplangues, Laclau and Bernadet; Sindic: J. Lagos, pro-Syndic A. Chovet; Auditing Commitee: C. Chatry and Quatrefages.

Advices from the Colorado report that Captain Nelson has succeeded in getting the barque Pampa up to the spot where the new town of Meli-Cura is about to be started in the 5th Department of Pampa Central, an experiment on the navigability of the river that so far is working famously. He will coast up as far as possible, which will soon determine the conditions of the river in this respect and solve an important point, given the almost incredible rapidity with which all that stretch of country is being opened up.

The gold market ruled very weak at the second ring. Three hundred thousand dollars were sold for delivery to-morrow: the premium opened at 216.20%, fell to 215.80%, rose to 216.60%, and closed at 216.10 %. Seventy thousand dollars were sold for the end of the month, the premium closing at 218 ½ %. Something was posted up for March at 222%. National Cedulas F rose to 80¼. La Plata Cedulas tottered at 17.30 and a few shares of the Bolsa Building A changed hands at 170. Funded Bonds of the Floating Debt were quoted at 79 ½.

Number 50 of the Produccion Argentina put in its appearance this evening. As usual the Revista is one mass of reading matter. The leader treats on the export of capones to the French market, which is at present a great topic of discussion. The engraving of French-Argentine ploughs made in this country ought to be studied, as it will prove of vital importance to farmers. The Produccion Argentina is the only paper that gives the classification of the Agricultural Machines Competition in Montevideo and La Plata, also publishing the results and opinion of the prices, it winds up the article with a fine portrait of the popular manager of the Fabricantes Ingleses, Mr. A. G. Pruden. As as a novelty, Mr. E. C. Pages has sent the Minister of Finance Dr. Romero, a treatise on a disease called "Foot and Mouth", which we are happy to say does not exist here.

The Minister of Finance issued a long decree to-day with regulations for the wine trade, but it is so long, we hold a precis of it over till to-morrow.

The Minister of Finance has informed Governor Udaondo that he cannot accede to his request for free entry of materials for the Lacroze Rural Tramway as Article 54 of the Railway Law of 1872 has been revoked.

The Inspector of Live-Stock for export has asked the Finance Minister to prohibit cattle steamers carrying animals or any other cargo over the hatchways.

The export of live cattle question is warming up. The Finance Minister has called the attention of his colleague of of Foreign Affairs to the interpellation in the French Chambers as to live-stock imported from this country, and also frozen meat, the latter being declared of bad quality, and to thethreat of the French Government to adopt restrictive measures. Dr. Romero says that the frozen meat comes from the best estancias in the country, and that he has taken every precaution to ensure that it and live-stock are shipped in proper condition. The Minister also declares that the wines sent here from France are not genuine according to brand, and are mostly adulterated. The Customs Law provides a minimum and a maximun duty, and the latter is applied to those countries that place prohibitive duties on Argentine products.

The Internal Taxes collected in January were:—

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

The rural show and Fair held at Balcarce a few days ago turned out a complete success, the demand by buyers being so sustained that the whole stock was cleaned out and buyers still over—a novel experience in this line. The estancieros trooped in as thick as Paraguayan "musketeers" from all the neighbouring partidos so that things were quite lively all round. The following had animals on show and sale: Gibson Hnos of Ajo, John Kelly, Pieres Hnos, M. Aranguez of Loberia, Bell Bros, Oyarzabal, Sixto Alegre, Milani Hnos of Chascomús, David Shennan, B. Mr. Castellar, broker, reports the sale of 1000 cows "al corte" from the Estancia Remington at $20 each, buyer Mr. Alwin Borgwardt.

Messrs Collet and Llambi put up for sale to-day 48 hectares of camp in Moron, 15 square more or less south of Ituzaingo station, and known as campo de Losa. The reserve was $450 the hectare, but this was not forthcoming and the sale fell through. The property is said to produce $45 a square rental per annum so that the price does not seem to be so high after all.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The general aspect of our market this morning could not be better. If operations were limited, it is due greatly to the discord which exists between exporters and sellers, from an outside point of view it is a good sign to see this situation, which proves that people are no longer fearful of a fall, but now firmly believe that produce has the corner in the right direction. The daily correspondence between our foreign markets and our own are always in the same tune, viz: River Plate produce firm and pointing towards a rise. The gold premium may fluctuate as it pleases, but as long as we can count on steady demand from our international consumers, we have sufficient strength to bear the brunt. We are glad to see that the government of the Prov. of S. Fé has opened its eyes to the fact that if it don't supply the colonists with corn for sowing, there will be a decided falling-off in the next year's yield. The colonists have suffered so heavily in the last crop that several of them would be unable to find seed. To remedy this circumstance a project has been laid before the Legislature to buy 30,000 quintals of seed wheat, which will be distributed amongst the colonies.

The arrivals of wool in the Central passed 800,000 kilos, increasing the stock on hand in that market to 14,000,000 kilos. When wool is on the rise the sales fall off; consignatarios do not care to cave in to the bids offered by the artistas, as they are perfectly aware these gentlemen must buy sooner or later to meet their contracts. About 250,000 kilos were sold to-day, prices very firm. Messrs. Devoto, Balbiani and Co. sold this morning 50,000 kilos of wool from Patagones at 5 and 5.50 per 10 kilos, The Constitucion has come down very quickly. Next to no wool is seen in that deposit, and as to the attendance it is as limited as the wool bags are.

The cablegrams from London referring to wheat inform us that no operations could be made under 26 shillings, this price has ruled firm since yesterday and is still inclined to rise. In Antwerp two ship loads were offered at 15 francs, immediately finding buyers. The demand here for wheat has not changed, superior French is now at 8.10 and the Barletta at 8.00. Messrs Pegasano and Pesano sold a lot of special Saldomé from the station Guanaco at 8.30 and another parcel of Barletta from the same place at the same price, some other sales were reported at 8.15 and 7.90. The tug of war between buyer and seller has put a slight check on operations in cereals, maize being the one that is feeling it most. Exporters paid in the Once from 3 to 3.20 for morocho and 3.30 for yellow. In the Riachuelo 3.55 was the current rate. A couple of lots of linseed were sold in the Once at 9 and 9.50. The reaping is nearly finished in Santa Fé, owing to this the bags are commencing to fall in stiffly; still the demand has not improved, the greater part of exporters are engaged receiving old contracts, several of which have been refused, the quality being so bad. No reaction is visible in prices, and if we were to speak frankly we should say that they point downwards.

The Rosario markets opened business-like yesterday, a glee was observed on the faces of both farmer and consignatario, the former counting on a stiff price for wheat while the latter was already thinking of his commission. Operations in wheat began at 7.10 and went up like a rocket to 7.20, it was even whispered that some parcels reached a higher figure, but the fact is kept very dark. That a rise is on is quite evident, the telegrams from Europe combined with unsatisfactory news from several of the colonies are bound to send up rates, and if anything is keeping wheat back from 7.50 it can safely be put down to the uncertainty of the gold premium in Buenos Aires. Everything is in favor of a rise, even the freights falling leaving a margin for higher prices. The sales were put down at 2,000 tons at the already mentioned rates; the average price of the market being 7.15. Notwithstanding the stock an hand of maize, there were very few transactions, holders will not agree to the prices offered by exporters, preferring to stand out for a spurt; the price for the superior exporting quality has not changed.

Linseed has lost the greater part of its energy, it has got into a corner that will take some force to get out of. Exporters are most particular as to get what they receive, and we hear that several parcels, belonging to colonists who had already resigned "boletos", have been refused owing to the bad condition of the lots. The small parcels that were sold fetched 9.65 and 9.90, the latter price was paid to fill up some vessels that were not quite full.

Firmness in cereals was still more marked to-day in Montevideo than has been the case for some time. The reason of this spurt is well known. Prices in wheat have jumped from 2.20 to 2.45. However, this will not last long, for the simple fact that when the arrivals increase, the supply will probably surpass the demand. The sales effected were: 200 bags from Rodriguez at 2.35, 500 do. from San José at 2.45, the rest amounted to about 530 bags at prices from 1.70 to to 2.45.

The demand for maize is stiff, but business is all stopped owing to want of stock, so one has just to content himself with quoting prices, which are from 80 to 95 cents. A certain slackness in salted hides was visible in saladero centres. Some few sales in tallow were reported, amongst them were the following: from Messrs. Arraya and Irigoyen's 100 bordalesas at 9.05 on board, from the Zarate Saladero from 150 to 200 pipes, with 10% bordalesas, at 9.75 Argentine gold. Mr. J. M. Spangeberg, of Gualeguaychú, sold from 3 to 400 pipes at the same price.

Not so much animation in wool, the interest has cooled down, leaving the market somewhat depressed. The following were the principal sales: 18,000 kilos from Rocha at 2.26, 6,000 kilos from Cerro Largo at 2.50, 6,000 do. from Chamezo at 2.60, the rest, 19,000 kilos more or less, was sold from 2.20 to 2.35.

"The bright, moving picture of the country's trade, commerce and production on the opening year consoles us with the conviction that its future is superior to human error and independent of individual influence."

The above lines, quoted from THE STANDARD of 3rd inst., are the true expression of our sentiments respecting the present position and expected future of the country, if we are to judge from what has occurred to us, as a minute fraction in its common wealth, during the year that has expired, and the hopeful advent of the new one on which we have entered.

If we take our branch of trade, and instance our business in particular, we have to admit that the prospects as regards the country at large are not at all exaggerated in the transcript we have made us of, as the increase in our concern has been beyond our most sanguine expectations during the old year, and, on the eve of the new one, promise is given of a very satisfactory augmentation.

To keep pace, therefore, with this hopeful state of affairs we have made ample provision, and our stock, which is always kept in adequate supply, will be periodically increased with every novelty to meet the increasing requirements of the year.

BIRTH.

On January 18th, at Tucuman, the wife of Frederick William Leake, of a daughter. Both well.

RIVER STEAMERS.

The Comercio from Salto and intermediate ports, and Saturno and Colon from Montevideo will arrive to-morrow.

The Venus for Montevideo and Colon for Salto and intermediate ports will leave to-morrow.

GENERAL.

The agent of the North German Lloyd line advises that the packet Specialist left Vigo yesterday „en route" for the Plate. This is her first trip to this port.

The French ss. Charente is posted to leave for Bordeaux and ports of call on 18th inst.

The Madonna del Carmen should on Sunday the 9th at 10 a.m leave the Boca for Patagones.

The Southwold arrived to-day in the roads from Rio. She has been placed in observation until it shall have been ascertained whether the mate George Lindall, who fell ill just after leaving Rio, be suffering from yellow fever. The Cyrene and County of Clare both went aground as they were entering the docks to-day. The latter vessel at once began to discharge part of her cargo into lighters.

The French packet La Plata left Rio to-day at mid-day on her voyage from Bordeaux to the port of La Plata. Her mails should be delivered here on the 11th.

The lack of water in the channel prevented a number of vessels from leaving or entering the docks.

Bills of health were issued to-day to-day to the following ss:—Leibnitz for New York, Michele Angelo for Genoa, Porteña for Havre, Ruskin for Deptford and Antwerp, Rowton for London and Somerton for Dunkirk also to the bq. Mignonette bound for Barbadoes.

Notwithstanding the rumours to the contrary, completest harmony prevailed amongst the members of the Board of Health at its sitting held to-day. It was agreed to meet every Wednesday and Friday.

A well known firm is loading a lot of steers which cost $40 gold but an expert in the English market remarked that the owners might consider themselves fortunate if the beeves realized £14 per head. The cost of remittance may be placed at something like £9 a head, thus leaving £5 to be handed here to the owners or say $80. The price paid in paper is say 128 so that not much less than a loss of $50 paper per head may be feared. Such losses, the result of old contracts, cannot be understood by estancieros who continue to hold out for ridiculous prices to their own detriment and that of the trade generally.

La Plata Port.

Feb. 7th

ENTERED.

German ss. Argentina from Buenos Aires to fill up.

DEPARTURES.

British ss. Drummond for London with produce and live-stock.

British ss. Morven for London with grain and live-stock.

British ss. Iona for London with produce and live-stock.

Norwegian bq. Goothaab for Hamburg with quebracho.

GENERAL.

The ss Iona concluded at last her cargo of live-stock, a delay of more than a day having occurred in consequence of the necessity of securing with bolts in an adequate manner the fittings not only on the 2nd, but also on the lowest deck, though they had been originally passed by the Inspector.

Messrs. Thomas Murray and Co. shipped on her 526 steers, a lot of which numbering 23, scaled on an average 722 kilos. Mr. Lean loaded 264 steers on the lowest deck and Messrs. J. Olde and Son, the wethers. The Iona left late in the afternoon for Deptford.

The German ss Argentina entered port to-day to load live stock for account of Raggio Carneiro and Co.

The deck-space of the Glasgow has been chartered for live-stock by Messrs. Zavalla & Co.

It is expected that next week the sheep dip at the Zavalla "embarcadero" will be ready for use.

The s s Gestor is expected here from Buenos Aires to load 168 steers and 1000 wethers for Messrs Kingsland and Brougham.

Messrs Raggio Carneiro and Co, have chartered the s s Argentina to load 208 steers and 800 wethers, the Scarsdale to load 180 and 800 and the Wolft to load 178 and 800 respectively.

Messrs Lenguas and Co, expect to load to-morrow 620 steers on board the Coringa.

Difficulties have arisen between certain exporters of live-stock and the Inspectors of this port—a very probable consequence of the immense mass of work to be got through by the two able officers in question, whose task is by no means an enviable one as they have always 3 conflicting interests to contend with, namely of the exporters, the steam-ship agents and the carpenters.

Rosario Port.
